

Curriculum Vitae: Annette Kordik

Address: Friedrich-Alexander Universität
Bismarckstr. 1
91054 Erlangen
Germany

E-mail: annette.kordik@psy.phil.uni-erlangen.de
Phone: +49 (0)9131/85-22283

Education

- 2008- present Ph.d. Student, Friedrich-Alexander University, Erlangen-Nuremberg
- Chair for Experimental Psychology, Motivation and Affective Neuroscience
 - Thesis advisor: Prof. Dr. Oliver Schultheiss
- 2008-present Student at the Academy for Veterinary Science (ATN), Rüti, Switzerland (correspondence school)
- Education in animal psychology (main area: dogs)
- 2000-2006 Student at the University of Mannheim, (Diplom degree in Psychology – equivalent of Master`s degree)
- 1999 Student at the Schubart Gymnasium, Aalen, Germany (high school diploma)

Work Experience

- Jul. 2008 - present Teaching fellow, Friedrich-Alexander University, Erlangen-Nuremberg
- Jun. 2006 - Jan. 2007 Freelancer, market research institution, Pirovsky Market Psychology (PMP), Mannheim, Germany:
- interviews (e.g. on satisfaction with tested products)
 - data evaluation (e.g. coding)
 - contacting test persons
- Jan. 2006 - Feb. 2006 Graduate assistant, University of Mannheim (Department of Social Psychology)
- Apr. 2005 - Jul. 2005 Intern, University of Mannheim (Department of Social Psychology)
- Jan. 2005 - Feb. 2005 Intern, child guidance office, Ludwigshafen, Germany
- Oct. 2004 - Dec. 2004 Intern, University of Heidelberg (Department of Forensic and Traffic Medicine)

Nov. 1999 - Jan. 2000

Intern, city theater, Aalen, Germany

- public relations and script department

Publications

Schultheiss, O.C., Kordik, A., Kullmann, J., Rawolle, M. & Rösch A.G. (2009). Motivation as a natural linchpin between person and situation. Journal of Research in Personality, 43, 268-269.

Schultheiss, O.C., Rösch, A. G., Rawolle, M., Kordik, A., & Graham, S.C.C. (in press). Implicit motives: Current research and future directions. To appear in Urdan, T., Karabenick, S., & Pajares, F. (Eds.), Advances in Motivation and Achievement, vol. 16.

Teaching

Field studies (undergraduate seminar)

Experimental designs using physiological measures (undergraduate seminar)

Introduction to psychology (undergraduate tutorial)

Professional Memberships

Canadian Psychological Association

Skills

Languages

German - Native Speaker

English - Advanced level

Fluent in English due to living in Canada in 2007/2008

French - Basic level